JULY 2018

NEXT MEETING: 13 th August 2018

Our speaker at the August meeting is Dennis Dempsey who will be talking on roses. Dennis is a well known grower . I am looking forward to his helpful hints. :)

CWA Hall 57 Wason Street, Milton NSW

GROW COMPETITION.

“Grow Comp. “plants - Sarco. Kulnura Kaliedescope ‘Frangipani’ x Roberta ‘Good Yellow’ , & Den. Superstar ‘Bright’ [2017 comp. plant], should be brought along each month. There will be small squares of paper for you to write your name on [place it under your plant, name down]. The table behind the President’s seat is the spot to leave them. They will be judged and points given 1st— 3. 2nd— 2. 3rd— 1 . These points are added to your points for monthly benching. Competition continues until one is brought in flowering. They should have been potted up by now [our rains will rot the roots in the medium they came in] Bring them to the AUGUST meeting.

Good growing all.

Our July speaker was Liz Karacsonyi, showing us how to pot up your orchids.

TIME TO REPOT

When you're ready to repot the orchid, spread out some newspaper over a work surface. Gather up a knife, scissors, new orchid pots (or old ones that are thoroughly cleaned), wooden stakes, and soft ties.

Now, follow these steps:

1. Remove the orchid from the pot.
2. You may need to use a knife to circle the inside of the pot and loosen the roots.
3. If the roots are healthy, firm, and filling the pot, put the orchid in a pot just one size larger than the one you removed it from, placing the older growth toward the back so the new lead or growth has plenty of room.

If the roots are rotted and in poor condition, remove only what you have to [roots act as an anchor in the pot], repot the plant in a container of the same or one size smaller than it was removed from.

If you place a poorly rooted plant in a container that's too large, the growing material will stay too damp, which will result in root rot.

4. Some orchid growers like to add a coarse material like broken clay pots or Styrofoam in the bottom of the pots to improve drainage. You don't have to do this if you're using shallow, azalea-type pots.

5. Place the plant in the pot so it's at the same depth as it was originally.

The new shoot should be level with the pot rim.

6. Press the fresh potting material into the pot and around the orchid roots with your thumbs and forefingers.

7. The orchid should be secure in the pot so it doesn't wiggle — otherwise, the new roots won't form properly. Place a wooden or bamboo stake in the centre of the pot, and tie up the new and old leads with soft string or twist ties.

Thank you Liz for your excellent demonstration.

NOVICE CORNER BY A.M. & J.C.

All novices need help.

Our questions need answers and we learn by doing, seeing, hearing and picking the brains of experience growers.

If you have a question—send it to the editor and we will try to find the answer for you.

This month we focus on a special novice in our club. His lovely paphiopedilum won Champion Novice and Champion Specimen, [giving the Open growers a challenge], at our 2018 Winter Show.

John Harriman brought in Alan Coultou's winning plant for him as he has been and still is unwell. Well done John. Then he took back the orchid with cards and ribbons, so Alan could enjoy his success. [these photos tell it all.].

DID YOU KNOW ????

Monopodial orchids are those with one growing point that always grows vertically, not sideways (such as phalaenopsis, angraecums, and vandas). The potting process for these orchids is similar to the process on page 2, except that the orchid should be placed in the centre of the container, rather than toward the back Cheers AM

Get Well Wishes to any club member that is unwell.

We are thinking of you—Alan Coulton.

The committee would like to thank those generous members that provide the goodies for afternoon tea and also the members who bring in plants etc. for our monthly raffles. Also we thank the people who help set up and clean up the hall as with many hands it doesn't take very long.

-REMEMBER -

Please do not water your plants before benching them, at our meetings or shows, as it makes quite a mess. Thank you. :)
