In The Greenhouse

Go easy on the watering now and only water early in the mornings, pick a day with a breeze as that will help dry out the foliage before nightfall. There are lots of buds on dendrobiums now so they should give us a good Spring Show.

The week before the Winter Show you can imagine the shock that I got when I went out one morning to find that some creature had eaten all the flowers off every dendrobium in my shade house (one had fourteen spikes on it). Well my grandchildren were here for the school holidays and for the next few nights there we were out there with torches looking for bugs my seven year old grandson thought that it was great fun until I found it and killed it. Bill told me that it sounded like a sand cricket and they can give you a nasty nip well it never got the chance as I beheaded it pretty fast.

How do you pronounce that?

Genus	Abbreviation	Pronunciation
Aeranthes	Aerth.	Ay-er-an-thees
Angranthes	Angth.	An-gran-theez
Brassavola	B.	Bra-sah-vol-lah
